NEW ELK RITUAL TO BE PREPARED

Will be Presented at the Next Annual Reunion.

The Grip and Sign of Recognition Were Abolished By the Grand Lodge.

DELEGATES HAVE RETURNED

Paducah Elks who attended the national reunion at Cincinnati have returned, with one or two exceptions.

The indications are that the next grand exalted ruler will be Mr. Robt. W. Brown, of Louisville, managing editor of the Times. Mr. Brown is splendidly qualified for the position. He is an enthusiastic Elk and one of the best known and most popular members of the order. He is now grand trustee, and Paducah lodge will favor him for anything.

Probably the most important act by the grand lodge at Cincinnati was the abolishment of the Elks grip and the sign of recognition. It seemed to be the almost unanimous opinion of the members that both had outlived their usefulness, and his annual report Grand Exalted Ruler Fanning urged the knock-out of the grip.

Many ceremonial additions were made to the ritual.

It was ordered by the grand lodge that the new committee on ritual take up the task of preparing a new ritual to be presented for adoption at the Buffalo reunion the week of July 10, 1905.

A total of 25 Elks in various parts of the country were expelled for various reasons.

Peoria (Ill.) lodge, suspended by Grand Exalted Ruler Fanning on the charge of giving an Elks carnival in opposition to the laws of the order, was ordered under suspension for three months. It was contended by the several delegates that the carnival was given by individual Elks and not the lodge as a whole, but the grand lodge was not convinced.

The suggested plan to allow subordinate lodges the right to make a discrimination in dues in favor of non-resident members was defeated.

BOSTON GIRLS

RETURNED FLOWERS SENT THEM BY A PRINCE.

Trixie Friganza, who made a bit in Paducah as "the Widow" in "Prince of Pilsen" and whose former home was in Cairo, Ill., is home from London, where she has been both happy and lonesome with the "Prince of Pilsen." She reports a "grand time" and says she begged a temporary release that she might return to look after the settling of her father's estate in Cincinnati. She reports that the "Pilsen" chorus girls as having the time of their lives, for all that they make some mistakes. They are nearly all of them natives of Boston, and it is their first trip abroad. One night an Indian prince sent the girls a huge bouquet of roses and sat in a box to note the manner of its acceptance. The Bostonians, not being up on princes but having a strict regard for the proprieties, gave him one searching look during the first act, decided that he appeared to be a Pullman porter in disguise, and returned the flowers.

READY TONIGHT

FOURTH STREET WILL BE THROWN OPEN FOR TRAFFIC.

Fourth street, from Kentucky Avenue to Jefferson street, which has just been paved, will be thrown open for use by night.

Contractor Terrell and Engineer Washington met this morning and agreed on this course. This morning the laborers were rolling the street and spreading sand over it and Mr. Terrell stated would have it ready for the board of public works by 4 o'clock. Engineer Washington stated that as soon as the street was ready, it would be inspected and thrown open.

The general council passes finally on the entire job, before it is formally accepted by the city.
